DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communication: Amendment A, filed on 03/24/03.

This action is made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yano et al., US# 2002/0138504 A1, in view of Sakai, US# 6,408,344 B1.

As per claims 1, 9 and 10, Yano et al. teaches "a plural saving designating unit . . . a file should be saved . . . saving destinations" (see abstract) "a file saving unit . . ." (see figs. 5-6—sheet 4 of 4). Yano et al. does not teach "saving separately managed copies of the file . . .". Sakai teaches "saving separately managed copies of the file . . ." (see col. 10, lines 8-44 and col. 5, lines 21-54). It would have been obvious at the time of the invention for one of ordinary skill in the art the tools to separately save and process data electronically. This improves data manipulation in a computer file saving environment.

As per claims 2-3, Yano et al. teaches "a plurality of file saving conditions" (see col. 1, lines 6-40).

Art Unit: 2172

As per claim 4, Yano et al. teaches "designation of a term for which said file has been prepared" (see col. 2, lines 30-50 and fig. 5—sheet 4 of 4).

As per claims 5-6, Yano et al. teaches "designation of a size of said file" (see col. 3, lines 1-20).

As per claim 7, Yano et al. teaches "saves at least one file unconditionally" (see col. 4, lines 3-45).

As per claim 8, Yano et al. teaches "storing inter-link information for the files saves . . ." (see col. 6, lines 30-65, whereas applicant's "link information" is synonymous to Yano's "URL").

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

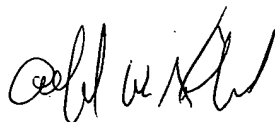

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
